

First Grade Flash

September 16-20, 2019

Weekly Skills:

Language Arts:

The students are reading A Fox and a Kit this week. This is our first nonfiction selection of the year. The class will be focusing on main idea and details. The class will continue our unit on small moments in writing.

Math:

Unit 1 math skills will continue to be the focus this week. The class will be coming home with a math review to complete tonight and tomorrow the class will also be taking a guided unit test together to prepare them for future unit assessments.

Social Studies:

The students are continuing to focus on filling buckets and learning how we can be good citizens.

Volunteers:

PHM Training for Volunteers: PHM requires all PHM Volunteers to watch the 8 minute anti-bullying video before working with students. Please go to the link below, watch the video and sign the form.
